

Great news!

BAE Systems Australia will host a collaborative technology showcase for Australian companies in Darwin, the day after the Northern Australia Defence Summit concludes.

As one of the nation's largest Defence companies, BAE Systems Australia supports, engages and collaborates with Australian businesses at the cutting edge of innovation to maintain a design and development capability in our own backyard.

This showcase will be held on Friday, 25 October 2019 and will feature a range of subject matter experts demonstrating new technologies designed to overcome the 'tyranny of distance'.

There will also be opportunities to network with the exhibitors as well as BAE Systems Australia.

If this sounds like something your company would like to participate in, please let us know.

A formal invitation will follow in due course to those who have expressed interest.
